

Internet Safety

Parents view each presentation in its entirety before showing your child.
Some may find parts of the content too old or inappropriate for some children.

The following links are Internet Safety Websites that have games and activities designed to help keep children safe while using the internet.

Remember! Be careful when you visit websites, some will have options and other links that take you to different websites. Some of these websites may have games or other content that may be considered inappropriate, so be sure to check with your parents to see if it is ok to visit these websites. Also, be sure not to provide any of these websites with your personal information like your name, address or email.

Mr. Griffin's Internet Safety LiveBinder

NetSmartzKids: Internet Safety Games

Surf Swell Island: Internet Safety Activities

Professor Garfield: Internet Safety and You: A website that teaches students how to be safe while using the internet.

Garfield Cyber Bullying

Hector's World: Internet Safety Videos & Activities

Bad Guy Patrol: Interactive Internet Safety Activities

Cyber Cafe: Internet Safety Activities

Click here to visit Mr. Griffin's Cyber Bullying Glog

Click here to visit Mr. Griffin's Internet Safety Prezi

Social Networking and your Child

Social networking is usually an online community of people who share interests and activities. These websites provide user webpages, chat rooms, and blogging space.

Some examples of social networking sites include: Myspace, Club Penguin, Facebook, and NeoPets.

Parents should:

- Have access to their children's social network
- Make their own profile and explore the site
- Learn the sites safety features
- Teach your children to use the privacy settings
- Look at your children's friends list, check out friends' pages, and make sure your child personally knows anyone they select as a "friend".

Thank you to Mr. Griffin who compiled much of this great information. Information for this page was found at:

<http://www.forestcityschool.org/schools.cfm?subpage=1031328> and <http://springwoodses.schools.pwcs.edu/modules/cms/pages.phtml?pageid=79708&sessionid=>